Y. W. C. A. LUNCHEON

MRS CHARLES TOLL AND MRS. CHESTER ASHLEY ENTERTAIN AT CLUB

Quite a large company of women was entertained Tuesday at luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. in Los Angeles by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, county chairman, and Mrs. Chester C. Ashley. The local chairmen and secretaries of towns which have been organized for the campaign were present, Glendale being represented by its chairman, Mrs. A. W. Tower, and its secretary, Mrs. E. L. Young. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of this city, who is to make a speaking campaign on behalf of the Y. W. C. A., was also a guest. Previous to the luncheon the company heard a fine address by Mrs. George Herbert Clark on "Americanization," in which she referred to the splendid work being done among foreign women by the International Institute, of which Hiss Halderman is the Y. W. secretary. Miss Mary Bentley, chairman of the eleventh field, also made a fine talk. Mrs. Toll presided at the luncheon and Mrs. Ashley made a fine inspiring talk.

About fifteen guests, most of them Los Angeles friends, were entertained at a Sunday afternoon tea and musical evening by Misses Hazel and Garnet Campbell at their pleasant home in this city, which adjoins that of their brother, Kemper Campbell. Mrs. Ayars and Mrs. Howeth of Glendale were guests.

HOSPITALITY AT CLARK HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Clark of Bakersfield and Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Missouri, were week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark of 346 North Louise Street. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Clark entertained a group of ladies at one of the Tuesday Afternoon Club teas, her guests being: Mrs. Brownfield, Mrs. Vinske, and Mesdames C. E. Case, Arthur Cross, Frederick Baker, Jesse Joseph, Frank Arnold, F. W. Burgess, E. U. Emery, I. C. Lane and R. M. Brown.

BOULEVARD EXTENSIONS FAVORED

The recent publication in the Evening News of the plans proposed by the City Trustees for new boulevards leading into and through the city has aroused great interest and many expressions of commendation have been received at the City Hall. The extension of Monterey Road as an east to west boulevard to connect Verdugo Road with San Fernando Road and form a northern outlet to Maryland Avenue, Kenwood, Jackson, Isabel and Howard streets, has been especially advocated and many promises of hearty co-operation in the project made by property owners.

HAVE YOU FILLED OUT YOUR INCOME TAX REPORT?

If you are at a loss on any point in making your income tax returns, you have only to call at the Council Chamber at the City Hall on Wednesday or Thursday of this week between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 4 p. m. where a representative of the Internal Revenue Department will give you information and aid.

HIGH SCHOOL OFFICERS

MEMBERS OF STUDENT BODY CABINET CHOSEN AT TUESDAY MORNING ELECTION

An election important to members of the High School occurred there Tuesday morning when officers to constitute the Student Body Cabinet were elected. Candidates had been previously nominated as follows:

President—Leland Wise and J. T. Jenkins.

Secretary of State—Thelma Walker, Roger Dennison and Alice Todd.

Secretary of Finance—Gertrude Hawkins and Garnet Peters.

Secretary of Publications—Victor Colburn and John Worley.

Secretary of Assemblies—Evelyn Williams, Clifford Kenworthy and Ralph Hutchinson.

Secretary of Athletics—Bernard Dennison, Wesley Wright, and Claire Morrow.

Secretary of Debating—Paul Hutchinson and Carroll Parcher.

Yell Leader—Gordon Ross, Guy Bennett and Clayton Card.

The contest was spirited and two pairs of brothers were elected to of-

AMERICAN WOMEN

GLENDALE REPRESENTED AT PAGEANT AND LUNCHEON OF L. A. CLUB

The last meeting of the South Side Ebell Club, at which Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of this city was a guest and speaker, furnished an unusual program which included a pageant entitled "American Women," from the days of the aboriginal Indian to the present, and the same motif was carried out in the luncheon toasts, their themes covering the various periods of American womanhood. Mrs. Ella Stewart of Chicago, National Chairman of the Social and Industrial Department of the National Federation, spoke on "Women in Politics." She declared that women are being persistently wooed by both parties, but since that is the role of woman, she can stand it. Before she joins either party, Mrs. Stewart insisted, she should demand its program, for it is better to have promises fulfilled before the ceremony than afterwards. She talked on the woman question in general and showed how the women of Germany have even more political liberty than have women here. Other speakers were Mrs. J. A. Matthews, Mrs. H. D. Fimar, Mrs. E. A. Pulling, past president of the South Side Ebell, who spoke on "Women in the Home," and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, who discussed "The Club Woman."

The pageant was put on by Miss Marian T. Whitney, formerly of the Ilitch Gardens of Denver, and instructor of the dramatic section of the South Side Ebell. It was pronounced one of the finest things that has been produced in the district in a long time. The meeting took place at the Vernon Avenue Library, which has a beautiful little auditorium downstairs designed for the use of clubs with a dining room and kitchen which can be used in connection.

EGG PRICES SAME AS LAST YEAR

R. A. Puffer of 452 Vine Street, who is quite an extensive wholesale dealer in eggs, says that the present price of 46 cents a dozen indicates that last year's minimum price of 37 cents may be reached in March, the month of heavy egg production. As feed is more than 30 per cent higher than last year, the poultry raisers find their profits seriously curtailed.

39TH ANNIVERSARY

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH CELEBRATES NATAL DAY OF C. E.

The Tropico Presbyterian church of Glendale is very much alive. Last Sabbath, February 1, was the thirty-ninth anniversary of the founding of the Christian Endeavor Society, and the services of the day were largely given to its celebration.

The morning church hour was entirely devoted to this service, and was conducted by six young people of the Eagle Rock and Occidental Christian Endeavorers.

The leader was Gale Barnette; pianist, Miss Veghte; song leader, Mr. Work.

The other members of the party were Misses Warner and Purcell and Mr. Wiggins.

Four of these young people each presented very forcefully, clearly and emphatically five reasons why they had chosen Jesus Christ as their Saviour, and the young (and old for that matter) who failed to hear these young people elucidate and quote from God's word to verify their statements, missed a great treat and yet a mighty uplift.

To a thoughtful, earnest seeker for truth, any one of the twenty rea-

CONSIDERING CITY STORE HOUSE

City Manager Watson and Public Service Department Superintendent Phillips went to Santa Monica yesterday by authority of the City Trustees to look over that city's storehouse for public property which is considered a model. It houses all the city's machines and construction material and is most conveniently arranged. As Glendale now has six autos and five motor trucks and carries in stock, from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars' worth of materials, the trustees and heads of departments feel that a fireproof storehouse and garage will soon be deemed a public necessity and its erection favored by the people of Glendale.

GERMAN DELEGATION BALKS

REFUSES TO TRANSMIT TO BERLIN ALLIED LIST OF WAR CRIMINALS AND NOTE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Feb. 4.—Baron Kurt Von Lersner, head of the German delegation here, refused today to transmit to Berlin the allied list of persons guilty of war crimes and an accompanying note. He returned the list and note to the French Foreign Office and notified them of his resignation as president of the German peace delegation.

The French Foreign Office said it has other means of transmitting the list and note. Von Lersner declared it is absolutely impossible for either himself or the members of his delegation to assume the responsibility of transmitting the list and note to Germany. He announced the intention of the entire German delegation to return to Berlin tonight. This will leave Germany without representation in Paris.

AMERICANS MURDERED IN SYRIA

BRIGANDS KILL THREE AMERICAN RELIEF WORKERS ACCORDING TO EASTERN DISPATCHES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Three American relief workers have been murdered by brigands in Syria, according to a dispatch received at the State Department today. No details were given.

SEDITION LEGISLATION

ATTORNEY GENERAL PALMER URGES IT BEFORE HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Sedition legislation is necessary to combat a condition having revolutionary intent on the part of both aliens and citizens, Attorney General Palmer told the House Judiciary Committee today.

In outlining his position on the proposed legislation Palmer supported the Davey bill and opposed the Sterling and Graham bills which had already been rejected by House leaders. He also answered the arguments of all who oppose sedition legislation and read extracts from "red" pamphlets threatening revolution and the murder of public officials.

BISBEE DEPORTATION CASES

JURY SELECTION MOVES SWIFTLY; SHERIFF WHEELER READY TO TAKE BLAME FOR DEPORTATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Feb. 4.—Approximately fifty talesmen have been examined in the trials of the Bisbee deportation cases. Neither side thus far has shown its hand definitely. Examination of jurors moved swiftly today. The tenth temporary juryman was caught in the first fifteen minutes of today's session and the eleventh a few minutes later.

The chief intimation as to the lines the case will take was contained in the questions asked of each man examined to bring out his views on the right to strike and on the right of either an officer or a private citizen to take the law into his own hands.

Harry Wheeler, who was sheriff when the deportations occurred, took a seat at the defense table today although no charge has been filed against him. Wheeler, it is understood, is ready to assume much of the responsibility for the deportations.

INFLUENZA IN LOS ANGELES

MANY HOMES QUARANTINED BUT DEATH RATE IS VERY LOW, ONLY TWO HAVING DIED YESTERDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—More than one thousand homes here are under quarantine for influenza, City Health Commissioner L. M. Powers announced today. Early today sixty-five new cases of influenza were reported, and yesterday the new cases numbered 391. However, the death rate is low, only two persons having died from the malady yesterday.

The City Council appropriated $10,000 additional to be used in fighting the epidemic.

OUTLOOK ON NEW TREATY FIGHT

SECRETARY TUMULTY GOES OVER SITUATION WITH THE PRESIDENT; NEW POLICY MAY RESULT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—President Wilson and Secretary Tumulty today had a long talk about the treaty situation, it was learned at the White House. Tumulty, it is understood, gave the president a full report of the outlook in the new treaty fight which will start next Monday when the pact goes to the Senate for debate. New instructions to Wilson's supporters in the Senate may result.

A NONOGENARIAN

HIRAM OGDEN ATTAINS NINETIETH BIRTHDAY. HAS RESIDED HERE 45 YEARS

Hiram Ogden, of 419 East Harvard Street, who is at the Glendale Sanitarium recovering from bronchial pneumonia, recently celebrated his ninetieth birthday. He is quite feeble but is able to get out in a wheeled chair every day. He takes the greatest interest in the development of the city and surrounding district, the more so because he has witnessed the growth. He came to Southern California from Minnesota in 1875 and the men and women who were his contemporaries are all gone. In 1875 there was no railroad running into Los Angeles, and all this country which is now so beautiful and fertile was a cactus covered waste because there was no irrigation available. He bought and cultivated acreage south of the city and his daughter, Mrs. Ryan, principal of the Broadway School, can remember when Los Angeles as a community centered in and around the Plaza, and when the streets were hub deep with mud in winter. In telling about it she said: "When we came in to shop at Christmas time I have often seen the show windows of the stores spattered with mud."

HARD LUCK

J. W. M. BURTON SUED FOR $10,000 FOR ACCIDENT IN WHICH HE HAD NO PART

That the most altruistic actions may impose a heavy penalty upon the doer is proved by the experience of J. W. M. Burton of the firm of Burton & Chandler, this city. He says he has just been sued for $10,000, and will be forced to defend himself at an expenditure of considerable time and money in a case in which he is entirely innocent. As he tells the story, it runs like this:

"A year ago last November while I was superintendent of the Union Oil Company's refinery at Wilmington, I let a Mr. Smith, one of the men under me, take my car to go to Long Beach. He went, not on an errand for me or for the company, but on his own private business. During the evening he took some friends out in the car and drove to Los Angeles and back to Long Beach. It was a foggy night and some one ran into him, smashing my car by striking it from the side near the door and rear portion. Three persons were in the car with Smith and they were hurt badly enough to be taken to the hospital, but very soon recovered without any serious results. On account of the confusion, Smith neglected to get the names and addresses of the persons in the car that ran into him.

"The next morning I found my car in a garage in Long Beach, made

GLENDALE BARBERS NO PROFITEERS

The Glendale barbers certainly can not be counted in the profiteer class since they are still charging the same price for shaves and haircuts as they did a year ago, while most Los Angeles shops charge 35 cents for shaves and 50 cents for haircuts. In one California city, Modesto, according to recent dispatches, the barbers raised their prices to 50 cents for a shave and 65 cents for a haircut.

BRUNO BECKER

GALE HENRY DELAYED IN REACHING HIS BEDSIDE FINDS HIM RECOVERING

Gale Henry, screen comedy star, and daughter of Charles Henry, city trustee, who left Los Angeles on Friday, January 30, to be with her husband, Bruno J. Becker, general manager of her company, reported to be critically ill with influenza at the Elks' Club, New York, wires officials of her company that her train was snow bound at Albuquerque and arrived in Kansas City fourteen hours late, and was again snowbound a few miles out of that city where it was delayed eight hours. In Chicago Miss Henry wired the Elks' Club, New York, and received word that her husband's condition has so favorably improved that he is out of bed and able to walk around the rooms a bit. She states she will continue her trip to New York and return to the coast with her husband as soon as business relative to her screen work for the ensuing year is transacted.

LEON RICE CONCERT

FINE TENOR DELIGHTS AUDIENCE AT CENTRAL AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

The delightful concert given Tuesday evening at the Central Avenue Methodist Church by Leon Rice, the celebrated tenor singer, and his wife who is his accompanist, drew an excellent audience which developed great enthusiasm. The concert was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, the proceeds being applied on its subscription to the church debt. Mr. Rice has the happy faculty of getting in close touch and sympathy with his audience and won their approval by the manner in which he introduced his songs, many of which were written expressly for and dedicated to him by New York composers. Simple lyrics and ballads composed most of his program, in which the outstanding numbers were:

"The Americans Come," by Fay Foster.

"Kimrooney's at the Fighting," by Norah Flynn.

"Plantation Love Song," by Deems Taylor.

"Sunrise Anew," by Arthur A. Penn.

"The Ninety and Nine."

Mr. Rice will be in Southern California until May, when he will return to New York.

Teachers and pupils in the Primary Department of the Central Avenue Methodist Sunday School are rejoicing over the renovation of the quarters assigned the department in the little social hall at the rear of the church which has been made very attractive by Mrs. McCormick, the new superintendent of the department, assisted by Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Smith. Pictures have been hung and the space has been divided off by curtains so each class has its special place.

RAIN IN THE MOUNTAINS

The near rainstorm, accompanied by thunder and lightning, which visited Glendale yesterday afternoon and aroused hopes of a genuine downpour, was part of a storm which reached cloudburst proportions in San Dimas and Ham Canyons, pouring a flood of waters down the streams. Very little damage was done, however. The rain was heavier in the mountains north of us than in Glendale.

HARRY NEW IN SAN QUENTIN

Harry S. New, who formerly lived at 322 El Bonito Avenue, Glendale, with his mother, Mrs. Lillian Burger, was taken to San Quentin yesterday to begin serving the "ten years to life" sentence pronounced on him for the murder of Miss Freda Lesser, in Topango Canyon, on the night of July 5, 1919.

MINNESOTA REUNION

A Minnesota reunion will take place Saturday, February 14th in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, to which all persons in Southern California who have ever lived in that state will be welcome. The program will open at 2 o'clock.

SCHOOL PARTIES

END OF MID-YEAR TERM MARKED BY FAREWELL FUNCTIONS FOR PROMOTED PUPILS

Pupils and teachers are finding it a little strenuous to have no break between the end of the first half year and the beginning of the second because the end of one means examinations and the beginning of the other means new enrollments and readjustments. Graduates from the lower grades move up to the Intermediate and Intermediates go on to the High School. It thus becomes a sort of imaginary line in all respects except the increased work. Some of the teachers are expressing the hope that eventually the terms of the common schools will correspond with those of the State University with the vacation between the first and last half of the year. Schools around San Francisco Bay are already adopting that plan.

In many of the schools, however, little functions are being arranged or have already taken place to honor the retiring graduates. At the Doran Street School it takes place in connection with a patriotic program which is being given today which will be attended by the P. T.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1920

THIS IS AMERICA'S YEAR

It will be a good year—the best that ever saw the earth rolling around the sun. Never doubt that. Of course the devil will be to pay this year; and he will have a larger bill than he ever had. That also is a part of the high cost of living—this eternal bill of the devil's to pay. He will demand pay for political upheavals and social disturbances and financial panics and all sorts and conditions of human disorders from general strikes to revolution in spots.

But the joyous part of it is the fact that while the devil is to pay in large sums, we shall pay him. The surplus of civilization in America is large enough to stand the strain. America is going to the stars by hard way; but not at all to the devil. We are traveling along lines of greatest resistance, but we are going forward and the travail is all good for our soul's muscles. The greater the shock—and don't worry, the year's shock may be terrific—the greater the victory at overcoming it. No one should fear for the fundamental sanity of the American people, nor for the rock-ribbed strength of the American government. These two, each sustaining the other, will weather the storm.

It may be, perhaps it must be, a big storm brewing. But at the end of it America will be stronger for the struggle and surer of her strength by reason of the great trial. Never before have dangers loomed ahead as they loom now. And never before have we been so ready to meet them. For we are a young nation and adventure is in our hearts. America goes forth into the new year a bridegroom from his chamber rejoicing as a strong man. There is everything to face and nothing to fear.

It was for this year that our fathers died at Bunker Hill and Gettysburg, and for this year that our brothers died in the Argonne Forest and at Chateau-Thierry. They did not die that we should live as mollusks; but that we should have glorious opportunity to strive as men for great causes. And here comes opportunity with her fighting clothes on. Who's afraid! Let's go!—Exchange.

I AM YOUR WORST ENEMY

I am the ruler of retail reverses.

I am the Lord High Potentate of Failure.

I am the origin of dissatisfied customers and loss of trade.

I am the reason for that downward slant on your profit curve.

I am the leaven of uncertainty in the midst of certain profits.

I am the cause of the silent sickness that stills your cash register bell.

I am the key to the problem why more than 15,000 retailers fail every year.

I am the element of chance that turns a winning business into a losing gamble.

I am the fountain-head whence springs the majority of your trouble and worry.

I am the why and the wherefore, the direct and proximate cause, the germ and the genesis of unsuccessful merchandising.

I am the Sticker, the Shelf-Lounger, the Left-Over, the nameless child of an unknown father.

I am the unadvertised product!

SOVIET RUSSIA MAKES PEACE

AGREES TO GIVE UNRESERVED RECOGNITION OF THE INDEPENDENCE OF ESTHONIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Soviet Russia agrees to give unreserved recognition of the independence of Esthonia, under the terms of a peace agreement reached between their governments, according to a dispatch from Reval. The Russian soviet government resigns all rights to the sovereignty of Esthonian territory. Both nations renounce all claims to indemnity.

BRITISH DEALERS SELL "SWEETS," NOT "CANDY"

If the American retailer labored under as many disadvantages as his British brother he would either want to go and take poison or jump from the top of the tallest building he could find.

Take confectionery as an example—"candy" is quite wrong. "Candy" is that sticky stuff you keep baby quiet with. "Confectionery"—or "sweets," whichever you prefer—is what adults buy. You would scorn to deal in such childish things as candy on the other side. Fancy selling Gladys a box of it, tied up in pretty ribbon; she'd probably heave it at your head. But tell her it's confectionery (or sweets) and—well, there you are! So much for a word.

The popular retailer of confectionery this side usually handles a tobacco line as well. Candy and tobacco here go hand in hand. In the towns scattered around London the store is usually double-fronted, one side being devoted to all sorts and varieties of candies and the other to a display of the most saleable brands of cigarettes and tobaccos. Soda fountains are not numerous. In fact, to find a real soda fountain is like looking for the proverbial needle in the rick. With exception of a few of the big enterprising London establishments the soda fountain is not, and even then the soda fountain trade is crudely handled compared with this American specialty.

The window trim of the average British retailer shrieks "bulk." And to none does this apply more than to the confectioner. His window space literally sags with the weight. The idea, seemingly, is to crowd everything handled right into the limelight, and give the fly a good old picnic. There is taste shown in the arrangement of the goods. Loose candies are set out in little trays of cut glass punctuated here and there by chocolate bars and small boxes of chocolate adorned with water colors of pretty girls, and tied with tastefully colored ribbons.

But the consumer has been educated to respect this sort of window trim. There is one thing about it—the buyer can see at a glance what there is for sale before he enters the store—and it's ten to one that whatever he wants in the candy line will be taken from the window where every solitary article from a two-cent bar of toffee to a dollar box of chocolates is duly ticketed with the price.

THE CRAVEN'S COURAGE

Physical courage is an odd thing, it seems. Grover Bergdoll, a millionaire Philadelphian, was, in the dear, dead days before the war, one of the dashing young sports who found the world all too slow for them. He was a speed maniac and a dare-devil of sorts; constantly at odds with the police because of his reckless disregard for his own life and the lives of innocent bystanders. Auto-speeding proved too easy for this young blade, and he was next heard of as paying $1000 for beating up one of the tribe of his ancient enemies, the police force. That excitement palling, or proving too expensive, he was an early recruit in the sport of airplaning in which he cut didoes on the first pages of the newspapers and carved spirals in the cerulean blue, to the delight of his native city in general and the small boy in particular.

And then the war, and a good chance for this exuberant and ebullient youth to show his prowess in a real and earnest game, one worth risking his neck for. But Grover couldn't see the war. He dodged the draft, and for three years he has been sought all over the continent as a culprit. This hero of the air, and victor of many a sanguinary battle with the police, was caught, the other day, hiding in a window seat in his mother's home, while she, braver than her son, but just as deluded, stood off the representatives of an outraged law at the point of a revolver. They are a sorry pair, friendless for all their money, their name a byword among the very boys who cheered the valiant fighter of police in the days when such sport seemed the acme of bravery.

He defied death in speed wagons, fought policemen to a standstill and cut capers in the air before cheering thousands, but the call to duty in a fight for humanity found his bravery oozing like sawdust from a calico dog. How is such a queer mixture of courage and cowardice to be accounted for?

UNFAIR ATTACK

DR. PERCY T. MAGAN ANSWERS CALIFORNIA ANTI-VIVISECTION SOCIETY

That the "news bulletin" recently sent broadcast by the California Anti-Vivisection Society, attacking the Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists, a Seventh-day Adventist institution at Loma Linda, Cal., contains untrue statements, and unjust criticism, is the assertion of the medical college in its answer, which has just been given out for publication. This statement declares that "the assertion that live animals are used, 'on a large scale,' for experimentation will bear considerable elucidation."

"Just what standard the Anti-Vivisectionists use by which to gauge their numerical estimates we are not informed," continues the medical institution. "We are prepared to prove, however, that as compared with other 'well recognized medical colleges' the number used is exceedingly small. To such an extent is this true that in a report emanating from the most eminent authority on medical education in the United States, the institution was taken to task for the paucity of animals kept for such purposes.

"Last year 26 dogs all told constituted the great numbers of this species of animal subjected to operative procedures. Every one of these was thoroughly anaesthetized before being operated upon, and with the exception of one, all passed out of existence under deep anaesthesia. None of these suffered any more pain than does a human being when profoundly etherized. The one dog which did not pass out under anaesthesia underwent a 'pawlow' operation, from which it fully recovered. Moreover, during the period when this dog was recovering from the operation, a special nurse was kept on duty for 36 hours to minister to its needs.

"Other animals used were 50 rabbits, about 75 guinea pigs, and eight cats, all of which were thoroughly anaesthetized.

"The statement that vivisection has been practiced in the college for the acquirement of serums is without foundation in fact. The college has no laboratory for the 'acquirement of serums.' Serums are used for therapeutic purposes, but these are all purchased from the commercial concerns manufacturing the same.

"As to the charge of inconsistency and hypocrisy because of the denominational advocacy of a vegetarian diet, and opposition to the wearing of furs and feathers, first, the statement about the furs is absolutely untrue. Seventh-day Adventists wear furs for warmth and comfort just the same as other people do and just the same as hundreds of Anti-Vivisectionists do, and as men have done since the earliest dawn of time. Adventists wear furs just the same as they wear leather shoes. It does not hurt an Adventist conscience to wear the skin of an animal in the form of fur or footgear any more than it hurts the conscience of scores of Anti-Vivisectionists to do the same thing.

"As far as feathers are concerned, the denomination has advocated the non-use of these in dress on the ground that they are a useless and expensive adornment. But an Adventist, the same as an Anti-Vivisectionist, is perfectly willing to lay his head on a feather pillow without any conscientious scruples save only where old H. C. L. puts a prohibitory price on such comforts.

"Why should the heads of the Adventist church be dubbed illogical and guilty of inconsistent and hypocritical standards because they advocate a vegetarian diet but do permit the shortening of the lives of a few animals under anaesthesia for the purpose of mitigating the sufferings of human beings? We number in our acquaintance scores of Anti-Vivisectionists who daily feed upon the flesh of animals that have been ruthlessly sacrificed without anaesthesia in order that these may gratify their appetites with an article of diet, when they could exist and keep in excellent health without it. Such do not make it a practice to raise their voices in protest that men scour earth, land and sea, hunting, shooting trapping and otherwise slaying innocent animals so that they may satiate their perverted palates.

"Hundreds of thousands of frightened sheep, and millions of terrified cattle are driven to the slaughter every year without ether, chloroform or other means of narcosis, and pious Anti-Vivisectionists cheerfully rend the flesh of these poor creatures with their teeth, and never seem to dream of starting an 'expose,' or of indulging in a campaign of publicity, or of seeking legislative interference against such practices. But let the lives of a few rabbits and guinea pigs be shortened in order that the human race may better learn how to combat the dread disease of tuberculosis, and exposes, campaigns of publicity, and sundry and various howls of righteous (?) indignation are belched forth against those who are devoting their lives to the alleviation of human suffering.

"Scores of those who create a tempest against the inoculation of animals, trust us with the lives of their dear ones who are sick, yet they brand us as 'arch-fiends' given to the touture of rabbits and guinea pigs.

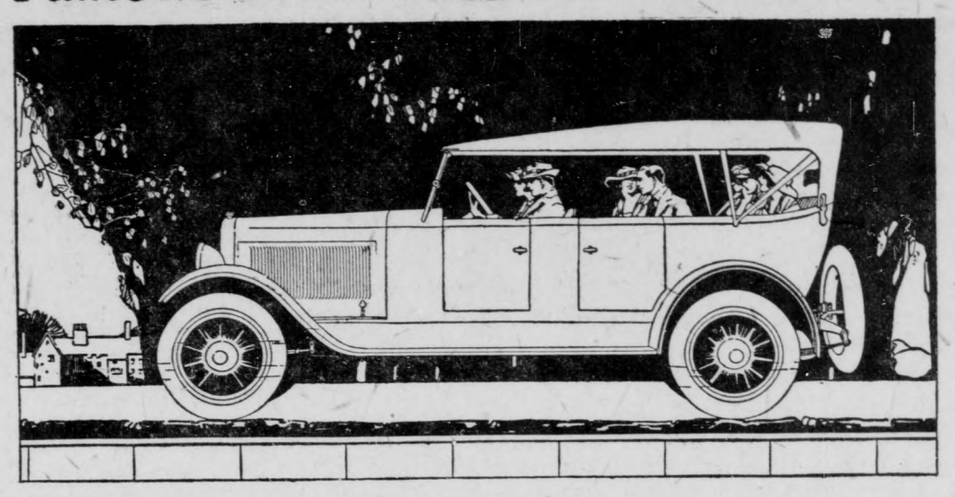
"Those who ignorantly, or through false sentiment, are endeavoring to secure legislative interference to stop or to restrict animal experimentation, seek only to add to the sufferings and sorrows of human beings. If these were obliged to witness daily, as doctors are, the sufferings and tortures of poor men and women afflicted with terrible diseases, we doubt if even they could content themselves that these should indefinitely continue."

Very truly,

Dr. Percy T. Magan, Dean of White Memorial Hospital, Los Angeles Branch of Loma Linda Sanitarium.

CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor



Europe Welcomes The Chandler Six

NOW and then you read something about "French style and line" in automobiles, or perhaps it's "the newest English idea." And some folks have gone across to get the newest suggestions.

Europe hasn't built automobiles for five years and Europe is crying for new cars and good cars.

America's style is Europe's style now.

The Chandler Six, popular in many other countries for years but kept out of Europe the past three years because of war-time prohibition of shipments, is welcomed everywhere in Europe now—welcomed for the excellence of its performance, and quite as much for the beauty of its styles of body.

The Chandler, represented in the British Isles by Messrs. H. G. Burford & Company, Ltd., of London, was exhibited by that old established English automotive house, at the great Olympia Motor Show, and was "quite the sensation of the show," says a London cable. "Three hundred and seventy Chandlers were sold in two days."

Apparently England is greatly pleased with America's best style in motor cars.

A THIRD TRIUMPH

If the introductory list of Brunswick Records is to set the pace for the production of the House of Brunswick, it means a wonderful opportunity for Brunswick dealers. It is well worth the wait of many months necessary for the preparation.

The House of Brunswick has been planning for some time to produce its own records and it has spent several years of studying out the possibilities of a different, better record. To produce the ordinary was unthinkable.

So Brunswick Records go one step further and include not only celebrated artists and favorite selections but the talent of the artist is interpreted by noted directors, thus bringing a closer intimacy with the composer.

Everyone who has heard Brunswick Records accord them instant approval and predict a great sensation.

Brunswick dealers are now offering the new selections and Brunswick national advertising is asking the public to judge Brunswick Records as Brunswick Phonographs were judged. This means that people are invited to hear and decide for themselves.

It is the general belief that the House of Brunswick, which has had such a phenomenal success with its phonograph, will score another triumph in the introduction of Brunswick Records.

A Portersville bank is planning to organize and support a cow-testing association for the dairymen of the Portersville district.

HORSE PLAY STILL CONTINUES

The oil land leasing bill is still awaiting consideration. The leasing question has been a political football since 1909.

In its present form the more important provisions in view have been preserved, although original bill has been partially eliminated through many changes made. Some of the amendments will eventually go by the board, it is anticipated, examples being those bearing adversely against alien rights of entry and those requiring anyone taking a lease on government lands to sell products at equal price all over the United States. The latter were inserted as a filing against certain American corporations, and for political effect, it is asserted, but will get out eventually.

There is a general feeling that the measure will go through to the satisfaction of most interested parties, including the government, although it will be a compromise bill at best.

The public is interested from the fact that for 10 long years oil development in this country has been hampered and delayed for political reasons and today when we need oil as never before, the horse play still continues.—The Manufacturer.

Talk about your pep: over at Alhambra they showed the real thing the other day. Having a new city park that needed fixing up, 250 to 300 citizens gathered there one day and planted the trees, leveled the grounds, laid out tennis courts, built lunch tables and benches, laid out walks and did everything but make the grass grow, all in one day. The ladies helped by serving a picnic lunch at noon. and it was no imitation lunch, either, as 45 dozen sandwiches and 14 gallons of coffee were surrounded by the workers. The work as well as the lunch consumed was a demonstration of what can be accomplished by everybody pulling together.

USE ADVERTISING TO HELP REDUCE H. C. OF L.

By William H. Rankin

PRODUCTION is the BATTLE SONG of the World today!

PRODUCE, PRODUCE, PRODUCE.

Translated into action, this means work, more work and most work.

Salesmanship is needed to help speed production.

Advertising is needed too.

Salesmen and advertising men produce—if they do not they are released.

Business men do not want salesmen or advertising men when they cannot produce by hard work and intelligent application.

There is no eight-hour work day for salesmen or advertising men. They work all day and then plan their work at night.

That's the kind of work that makes a permanently successful salesman or advertising man.

We all know thousands of manufacturing concerns employing now millions of skilled and unskilled labor—who began business in a small way with 10, 25, 50 or 100 men in their manufacturing plant.

The increase in number of men came as a result first of making a product worth while at a fair price to the consumer; then National Salesmanship and Advertising created consumer demand, and behold the 10, 25, 500 or 1000 employes increased to 10,000 or 25,000.

And this simply because the salesmen and advertising men produced the "ORDERS" from responsible firms who paid their bills, thus furnishing the cash for the manufacturer to pay weekly wages to skilled and unskilled labor.

Team work PRODUCED orders.

Now the big opportunity for salesmen and advertising men today is to help show these skilled and unskilled laboring men that the way to reduce the high cost of living for each one of us is to increase our production of work done each hour 10, 25 or 50 per cent.

It can be done.

But salesmanship and advertising must be used to get the results just as it is being and has been used to build up business.

The Coal Strike showed conclusively that the miners know the value of National advertising when they asked to have the Government require the operators to spend $5,000,000 a year to create consumer demand for Coal twelve months of the year and thus enable them (the miners) to have work the year around instead of six months as heretofore. It would cost the operators less than two cents per ton mine to raise this appropriation and the interest and depreciation on the mining machinery while idle costs the miners (and ultimately the consumer) that amount each year.

To illustrate what I mean by Production, I quote below from the January issue of that great business Magazine—System:

"The sale most important to all business is the sale of an idea that the nations and individuals can get what they want only through increased production.

"Selling the simple, fundamental idea that it is WORK which counts, means more just now than selling a five billion dollar export trade balance in 1920.

"To illustrate: A building contractor put up a family hotel recently allowing for the increase in the scale, and figuring that the carpenters' wages would be about $7000.

"He felt sure of his ground because most of the men had been working for him for years; but their wages ran up to $22,000.

"'They went dead on me,' he says. 'It was hard to believe they were the same men.'"

Imagine for an instant, a Sales Manager given an appropriation of $7000 to sell through personal salesmanship a lot of goods—and after the goods were sold—show that it cost $22,000—a total loss of $15,000. There would be a new Sales Manager and a new set of salesmen on that job immediately.

Non-production like this is what is increasing the cost of living.

These carpenters surely would be considered the very worst type of profiteers. There is no excuse for a man not giving his very best work each hour, each day—and we must devise ways and means to sell the millions of men and women who work to increase their production while working 25, 50 or 100 per cent during 1920—and that is the only Salvation for this or any other country.

Individuals must be reached through propaganda, salesmanship, publicity, and advertising. Every known resource must be used to bring about this result.

One of the best methods would be for each firm who spends $50,000 or more in salesmanship or advertising, to put into a common fund 15 per cent of such expenditures and the fund so raised should be used to awaken the 110,000,000 people of this country to their duty to produce—more each hour, each day—through hard work and concentrated and persistent effort.

Fifteen to twenty-five million could be raised in thirty days provided the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Association of National Advertisers and the Advertising men of this country would get behind the plan.

That is the kind of plan that helped make the Red Cross, Liberty Loans and the like successful, when backed up by the highest grade personal salesmanship.

Let us WAKE UP all AMERICANS.

Make Americanization mean PRODUCTION—more PRODUCTION—through hard work intelligently directed toward a definite goal—and that goal should be to lower the cost of living through greater production and elimination of strikes and disturbances of all kinds.

TURN LOOSE THE WHITE COAL

Our country and especially the west is on the eve of the greatest hydro-electric development ever known in history.

The electric era has been hastened by the coal strike and by the need of conserving coal resources.

Demands for oil products are growing faster than crude oil resources can possibly be developed.

Electric light, heat and power must come to the relief of the world and the west has the undeveloped power.

When congressmen quit waving the black flag of "conserving" our water powers which are wasting to the sea, and wave the American flag of advancing progress to the new era of electricity—relief will come.

SECOND TERM SCHOOL

The second term of school will open on Monday, February 9, 1920. It is very important that every child should enter school on the first day and should thereafter be regular and punctual in his attendance. Any absence may be a serious menace to the child's standing in his classes.

School Age

The legal age for entering school is six years. However, an allowance of three months is made. This means that in order to enter the first grade a child would have to be six on or before May 9, 1920. No exceptions are made to this rule. No beginner will be admitted after the close of the first month of the term.

Kindergartens

Kindergartens will be opened at the Columbus Avenue, Colorado Street, Broadway, Cerritos Avenue, Pacific Avenue, Central Avenue and Doran Street Schools. The law states the kindergarten age to be from four and one half to six years. This law is interpreted to mean that the child will have to be four and a half before the end of the third month of school,, i. e., in this case, on or before May 9, 1920. No allowance is made for over age. Any child who is six years old or older on the day the term begins will not be admitted to the kindergarten. Such child may of course enter school if the parents so desire. In order that the parent may have a choice between the kindergarten and the school, the child must be between five years and nine months and six years old on the day the term begins.

Parents are advised to send their children to kindergarten until they are at least four years and nine months old for the following reasons: First, we have a kindergarten course of only one year, and if a child finishes that before he has attained to school age he will either have to drop out for a half year or take the same work again in the kindergarten; second, a child of five will get much more out of the kindergarten work than a child at four and a half.

fice as will be seen by a review of the successful candidates listed as follows:

President—Leland Wise.

Secretary of State—Roger Dennison.

Secretary of Athletics—Bernard Dennison.

Secretary of Finance—Gertrude Hawkins.

Secretary of Publications—John Worley.

Secretary of Assemblies—Falph Hutchinson.

Secretary of Debating—Paul Hutchinson.

Yell Leader—Clayton Card.

At a ten-minute Boys' Assembly early in the afternoon Jack Jenkins was elected Secretary of boys and Stewart McMullin treasurer of boys. Miss Harriet Barnes was elected secretary of girls last week. These officers are also members of the cabinet. It is their duty to preside at assemblies o fboys or girls. to look out for their interests and as cabinet members to look out for the interests of the school as a whole.

A girls' assembly will be held next week at which Mrs. Daniel Campbell will be the speaker.

The principal is in receipt of a letter from Dr. Thomas of the State University saying that as one of the official examiners of the University he is looking forward to visiting Glendale Union High this spring. These examiners appraise the school as a whole after visiting classes instead of basing their reports on examination returns.

The Broadway Lunch Room Is Expanding

¶ Patronage far exceeding our expectations has made it necessary for us to double our accommodations.

¶ We have just completed enlarging and remodeling our lunch room and are now prepared to serve all who come.

¶ Ladies, especially, will appreciate the booths we have just installed.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT FOR SERVICE HERE

¶ We are making a feature of prompt service in our enlarged quarters just as we did before we expanded. This is a good place to eat when you are in a hurry.

Try our Delicious Cream Waffles or Hot Cakes for Breakfast. We make a specialty of Tamales that taste just right. Have you tried our Chili? It is a little different. We pride ourselves on our Sandwiches and our Short Orders.

CHANDLER POPULAR IN EUROPE

The welcome that has been accorded the Chandler motor car in Europe since it has been possible to resume auto exportation, is enough to make any American proud, according to Bartlett & French, local distributors for the Chandler and Cleveland Six. They report that over 350 Chandlers were sold at the recent London Auto Show; and in this connection it must be remembered that the Britisher is a very careful motor buyer.

One of the points that makes the Chandler popular in Europe, where auto construction has been brought to a high state of perfection, is the Bosch High Tension Magneto ignition system. European manufacturers always have adhered to the magneto as the only absolutely dependable system of ignition, and the American fine car factories are coming back to it one by one. The Chandler has always been magneto equipped, and for this reason never has to be towed in on account of battery trouble. The Bosch Magneto is entirely independent of the storage battery.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Masters of 330 Fairview Avenue are the happy owners of a new touring car.

Mrs. Kara S. Root, wife of Prof. W. D. Root, has been confined to her home for a week with a severe cold.

J. H. Flower of 108 East Elk Avenue has just disposed of all his Burbank property and will devote all his time and energies now to building operations in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. James Howarth have just moved from the apartment on Harvard Street in which they have been living to the new home they have built on North Isabel Street.

A. N. Allis moved Tuesday from 471 Ivy to the new home he has just completed at 471 Hawthorne, where he expects to open a bungalow grocery.

G. C. Slate, wife and five children who moved to Glendale last July from San Pedro, have bought H. A. Michel's place at 1151 North Columbus Avenue and moved in Monday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Mrs. Sella Barr who passed away in Glendale February 2. Pulliam & Kiefer were in charge.

The house formerly owned by Mr. Dunham at 950 North Louise Street is now in possession of Mr. and Mrs. Kressman and their two charming little daughters, and they are beginning to feel quite at home in their new environment.

Mrs. John H. Jackson starts today on an extended visit in the East, going first to Chicago, where she will be the guest of her son, Morris, and his new wife, as well as her stepson, Robert Jackson and family. She will go thence to Danville, Ky., where she will spend several weeks with her daughter, Elizabeth, who is now Mrs. A. M. Feland, Jr.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower, who says he has been the most persistent kicker about the postal service in Glendale, is jubilant over a letter he has just received containing the announcement that an additional carrier district has been established in this city starting this week which it is believed will improve the service very materially. The doctor has also been fighting for three deliveries in the business district and is hoping that will come too.

Dr. C. W. Symonds, who is at present on the staff of the Walter Reed General Hospital at Washington, D. C., is a visitor in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry R. Harrower on North Cedar Street. They have been entertaining this old friend by taking him to various points in Southern California. He says it seems like a beautiful dream and he has decided, as soon as he can get out of the medical service of the army, to locate in Southern California for the practice of his profession.

Mrs. H. R. Boyer of 232 North Orange Street is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Douglas Newell, who recently arrived from that beautiful old town on Lake Michigan, Kenosha, Wis., the old home of herself and Mrs. Boyer. She was the special guest at a little theatre party which included Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, Dr. and Mrs. Boyer, and which took in the Kolb and Dill show at the Mason Opera House Wednesday evening.

DEATH OF MRS. M. D. LEARNED

Mrs. M. D. Learned of 136 North Jackson Street died this morning at 9:10 of heart failure. She had been unwell for three weeks past and had given up her work as treasurer of the Seventh-day Adventist church, which position she had held for sixteen years, ever since the church was organized. She had just passed her sixth-eighth birthday. Burial will be at Monrovia. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

AMERICAN LEGION

MEMBERS ARE MAKING GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR THEIR COMING VAUDEVILLE

Members of Glendale Post of the American Legion are working hard on their vaudeville entertainment, which will be given on Tuesday, February 10, to increase the fund for furnishing the Post hall. Among the noted entertainers they have been fortunate enough to secure are Judge Templeton, a former Ohio jurist, who is an author and composer of some note, a humorist and story-teller who wins his audiences with a fund of quaint drollery; Vera Belle Chamberlain, a dainty little danseuse who has been appearing with great success before critical audiences in Los Angeles; also Viola Yorba and Ernest Martinez in dances of Old Spain. These two popular artists last named need no introduction to the people of Glendale. Their exemplification of the poetry of motion as seen before the introduction of the "Shimmy" and "Jazz Shiver," is most refreshing.

The boys are counting on a very large attendance and are determined the program shall be one of superior excellence.

APPRECIATIVE VISITOR

Mrs. B. O. Frazey of Marshalltown, Ia., who has been here for a couple of months and a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant, leaves for her home today. In her honor the Bryants entertained a group of friends from Hollywood on Sunday, and they have seen to it that she took in all the sights during her stay. She and they have had a very happy time and she leaves declaring that she and Dr. Frazey and their son will come and spend next winter here. Mrs. Bryant says Mrs. Frazey has been so delighted with everything that it was a great pleasure to take her about. Letters which the guest has received from her mother this week state that they have seen sunshine in Marshalltown just twice since she has been away, and the visitor is rather dreading to go back.

FRESNO CONDITIONS

RETURNING TRAVELERS REPORT FOGS WHICH MAKE IT LOOK LIKE PITTSBURG

W. E. Evans and J. G. Huntley returned Sunday night from an auto trip to Fresno for which they started Friday morning. Mr. Huntley went to close a deal on a piece of property he has just sold there and the two men also wished to investigate a prospective purchase on which they had an option. Mr. Huntley says the "flu" epidemic has made Fresno look quite different from the aspect it bore when he was last there. The schools are closed and many places of business are shorthanded because of the illness of employes. A heavy fog which hung over the city made it look like Pittsburg. They had expected to make a longer stay, but found they could complete their business sooner than they planned and so made their stop in Bakersfield on their return, visiting the Wildes and McFaddens, whom they found well satisfied with both the business and living conditions of their bustling little town.

OHIOANS BUY GLENDALE HOME

Anderson Eaton, who came to California a few weeks ago with his wife and son from near Cincinnati, Ohio, and found work almost immediately with the Moreland Truck Company, has bought the residence property of C. F. Hoyt at 1150 North Columbus Avenue, and will move in next week, as soon as the property can be vacated. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt and their three children will move into the apartment house H. A. Michel is rushing to completion at 809 North Central Avenue. Mr. Michel has moved his own family into the other apartment.

LITERARY SECTION

MEMBERS PAY TRIBUTES TO MEMORY OF MAUD POWELL, FAMOUS VIOLINIST

Members of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club which met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Ayars on North Orange St., were very much delighted to learn through Mrs. Blake Franklin, who had visited her, that their curator, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, is making a fine recovery. She recently underwent an operation at a hospital.

In giving current events Mrs. G. H. Rowe paid a fine tribute to Maud Powell, the famous violinist who recently died, and in that connection Mrs. Harriet White from personal knowledge gave a biographical sketch of the great musician, telling intimate details of her life from babyhood. Mrs. Mabel Ocker also contributed interesting facts concerning her career. Mrs. Rowe spoke of the big union station planned for Los Angeles to be erected at the Plaza and to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000,000.

Mrs. L. I. Goldthwaite contributed an exceedingly interesting account of the early history of Spain and the origin of its people.

A short symposium of the three most famous generals connected with the great war—Foch, Pershing and Haig, was given by Mrs. George Adams, who emphasized the fact that all three have been great students and of deep religious convictions.

YELLOW AND WHITE LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. E. Downing of 206-A Hawthorne Street was hostess on Tuesday at a delightful luncheon in honor of her sister, Miss Octavia Lesueur, who recently arrived from Oklahoma to make her home with her parents, Captain and Mrs. Lesueur, on their ranch near Burbank.

A dainty combination of yellow and white was used in the floral decorations and table appointments, a large cut glass bowl filled with California poppies forming a glowing and effective centerpiece. The same pretty color scheme was repeated throughout the luncheon. Following the luncheon the ladies spent a pleasant afternoon together with conversation and needlework. Guests were: Mesdames Charles Bowen, Ralph Church, Florence Gower and Earl Dufer of Burbank; Mesdames Archie Parker, Raymond Frey, H. W. Yarrick and J T. Crampton of Glendale.

FUNERAL OF A. B. SCOFIELD

Almon B. Scofield, who died Monday at his home, 310 North Kenwood, will be buried tomorrow afternoon in Forest Lawn Cemetery. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers, Rev. Geo. W. Davis officiating. Mr. Scofield was born in Ohio, November 7, 1852. On April 4, 1888, he married Miss Maud Ellenwood and in 1896 they moved to Glendale, where they have resided practically ever since. Five children were born to them, of whom two, with their mother, are still living. Urban A. lives in Highland Park and Miss Maud is at home with her mother. Mr. Scofield was converted in 1899 and lived a Christian life during the remainder of his days. For the last nine years he was a member of the Christian Alliance in Glendale. His only living sister, Mrs. Jennie Shoemaker of Fontanelle, Ia., was with him for the last few weeks. The hymn he loved above all others, "Christ Is Coming," will be sung at the funeral.

HORSESHOE CLUB GETS NEW GROUNDS

The Glendale Horseshoe and Croquet Club is no longer a homeless wanderer, as ample grounds have been secured at the southwest corner of Broadway and Orange Street, the use of which they were generously tendered as long as the property remains unsold by the present owner. The city street workers cleaned all the rubbish off the grounds and today the entire surface needed for the games is being graded and packed to the requisite hardness. A grand opening is being arranged for, probably to be staged early next week, when it is planned to have players from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Pomona and other places here for a series of games.

DEATH OF MISS DOXEY MCPHERSON

Miss Doxey McPherson passed away at the Huntington Hotel in Los Angeles, February 3rd. She came here for her health just a week ago today from New Mexico with her sister, Miss Electra McPherson. Her death was sudden and came as a great shock. Miss McPherson had many friends in Glendale. Her sister, Miss Electra McPherson, is staying at the home of Mrs. George Anderson, 1312 Harvard Boulevard. Funeral services will be held from the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking Company Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in Forest Lawn with Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian Church officiating.

Tuesday noon Miss Ida Waite, principal of Colorado School, Miss Chase and Mrs. Robinson of the same school were entertained at a very prettily appointed pink and white luncheon by Mrs. James C. Kinsey of 303 East Elk Avenue. The daughter of the hostess, little Carmen Kinsey, started in at that school with the first grade and has been there ever since and her mother feels grateful to the teachers for the care and training she has had. , A few days ago Miss Waite entertained the pupils of the sixth, fifth and third grades with a little party, and on Tuesday entertained the first, second and fourth grades in a similar way. Miss Chase gave a party for the sixth grade on Monday.

Members of A. 6 grade thus entertained are: Thelma Barker, Jack de Lara, Caroline Gommel, Henry Hesse. Viola Hail, Rebecca Klein, Carmen Kinzy, Eugene Kille, Bonnie Jean Lockwood, Homer Lockwood, Mary McCoy, Vivian Nay, Burnham Warner, Helen Podurgiel.

sons ought to convince any one as to why he, too, should make the same choice as they.

But this was not all.

The fourth of the series of six consecutive evening meetings at this church of the School of Missions for American Christianization was held at 6:30.

These meetings are brim full of pep and all who have attended are much pleased and growing more and more enthusiastic.

The church evening hour was taken by the C. E. of the church, led by Miss Carol Duncan. This was a very live meeting.

Then last but not least by any means, was a talk by Dr. McClain, who has charge of the mission work of the Presbyterian Church of the S. W. among the Mexicans, and he very graphically, eloquently and earnestly pointed out many of the difficulties met with in trying to Christianize them. You should have been with us and received the mighty uplift.

inquiry and found Smith laid up in his apartment. Smith had the car repaired and put in order and nothing further was thought of the matter. I was out the use of the auto, however, for about two months while it was being repaired.

"Yesterday I was notified of this action brought against me by a man and woman who were passengers in the car that ran into mine. They had investigated my car and found the license in my name, and brought suit against the man with whom they were driving and against me, supposing that I was driving my car. Smith is no longer in California, and their driver has sworn that I was the man whom he saw driving the car. Of course I can prove otherwise by the persons who were driving with Smith that night, but it means trouble and expense. I intend, however, to fight it and demonstrate conclusively that the plaintiffs have no case against me. They let the matter run along until just before their right to sue would have expired under the statute of limitations."

"PESTERED TO DEATH"

Do Evening News classified ads bring results? Ask E. B. Brooks of 1131 East Elk Avenue. Mr. Brooks came in to insert an ad this morning. "Run it only once; I was pestered to death with answers to that other ad," he said.

OILY CUSTOMER

Robert Henri, the eminent New York painter, was talking about the men who buy, merely to show off, doubtful 'old masters' at fabulous prices.

"Their knowledge of art," Mr. Henri said, "is about equal to that of the Chicago sausage manufacturer who said to Whistler:

"'What would you charge to do me in oil?'

"'Ten thousand dollars,' said Whistler promptly.

"'But suppose I furnished the oil?' said the millionaire."—Success.

WEATHER FORECAST: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday. No important change in temperature.

BEING COUNTED

It gives one a sense of national importance to be approached by a census enumerator and stand up and be counted, and have one's life-history written down for whom it may concern. It makes one realize suddenly that he plays a part in the national scheme. It brings him into momentary touch with all the other members of this great nation. He feels himself, more fully than usual, an American. He may be an obscure citizen, but he is at least worth being included in the inventory. And he takes a satisfaction in filling just as much of the record as anybody else. This census enumeration is the great leveller. In it is real democracy. Every man, from president to street-sweeper, has one line, or more. So has every woman and every child.

This sense of importance, however, may give way to a more modest feeling, as the citizen realizes how many of him there are. He is but one in perhaps 110,000,000. Nobody can grasp that fact. Such numbers are overpowering. They dwarf and stifle the individual who contemplates them.

Wherefore, why contemplate them? It is the individual, after all, that counts—for himself and for his country. Every person is, for himself, the center of the world. And possibly this is not mere egotism. Possibly there are really as many centers to the universe as there are people to think about. And certainly the glory of a nation rests on its individual citizens rather than its numbers. How much greater was the little Athens, with its few thousand citizens who lived individual lives and played their eager, original, creative parts in the world, than vast China, with its stereotyped millions!

It is natural to take pride in numbers, but it is rather silly business, particularly where nations are concerned. It is a false grandeur that is gained from being one of many. The thing that counts is to be a real person, an individual distinguished from the many by self-determined thought and action. Everything comes back to that. And one citizen may be as great as millions, because he withstands them when they are wrong, or speaks for them when they are right. —Exchange.

MODEL ON AMERICAN CLUBS

France is considering the adoption of Uncle Sam's methods of teaching better farming and home making to boys and girls. Representatives from the French high commission, lately in this country, made a point of studying carefully the methods of the federal department of agriculture and the state agricultural colleges in conducting boys' and girls' clubs. Much of the information thus collected has been widely reprinted by the French press, accompanied by an editorial comment expressing the view that the man or woman power of France having been depleted or disorganized by war service, France for some time to come will be dependent in large part upon its younger population for its food supply and suggesting the formation in France of a nation-wide system of boys' and girls' clubs patterned on those in America. It is expected that these clubs will grow staple products—garden produce, wool, farm grain and forage crops, poultry and farm animals on farms not devastated, the very soil of which must fnrst all be put in condition. They will stimulate production by the young people of France through organized contests not only in farming but in home enterprises such as bread making, garment making, cooking and home management.

SOME THOUGHTS ON 1920

Yes, 1920 is going to be somewhat of a year. It is Leap Year, and it is Presidential Year. It is easy to remember each of them, because of the other—they come together unfailingly, and this year there is a peculiar fitness in their association.

Heretofore the male citizens have elected presidents to rule over them, while the younger female citizens have elected husbands for the same purpose. There are, indeed, those who maintain that women do not choose their mates in Leap Year; there are also those who, like Bernard Shaw, in "Man and Superman," maintain that women always do the choosing. Be that as it may. There has always been the same sort of argument about the president, some insisting that the people choose him and others that the politicians choose him. In either case, it makes little difference. The president does what he likes after he's elected, and so does the husband—or the wife, as the case may be. What we started out to intimate was, that this year the women will probably do all the choosing, presidential as well as matrimonial, because they will have the ballot long before the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

Some folks say it is also going to be Peace Year. There was 1918 devoted to war, and 1919, devoted to talk, and now 1920—it is a hopeful and beautiful thought that we may have peace alike from the war and from the argument that was worse than war.

"But how can there be peace if the women are running everything?" asks a cynical male.

Very simple! Just leave that, too, to the women. There is always peace when men let women have their way.

"But how can there be an end of the talkfest if women have their way?" persists the cynic. "You know how women are."

Yes, we know. But somehow we don't believe that even a feminine Senate would have used 20,000,000 words in debating that peace treaty, as the male Senate did last session.—Long Beach Telegram.

"GETTING READY TO LIVE"

Much talk is made about the folly of the men who stick to their money-making all through their lives and do not take time to enjoy it. It is the common idea that at a certain age, say sixty, a man should knock off work and spend the rest of his days blowing in what he has saved and trying to forget all his habits of systematic industry and frugal prudence. If a man does not do this, he is said to "spend his life getting ready to live."

But suppose his work is his life? Suppose he enjoys it more than anything else? Suppose he would rather make money than spend it, not necessarily for the sake of the money, but for the sake of the work? Suppose an aimless life of pleasure and ease does not at all appeal to him as a worthy or happy one? Is he then, if he toils on to the last, merely "spending his life getting ready to live?"

A whole lot of criticism of others is a dead give-away of the critic.

CAUTION

He—I think I'll have another helping of this meat substitute.

She—So will I.

He—No you don't; if we both get ill, who's to go for the doctor?

A HOME WRECKED

"I understand Mrs. Gabson has left Mr. Gabson and gone home to her mother."

"Yes, a sad affair. She charges him with excessive cruelty."

"You surprise me. Gabson doesn't look like a man who would beat his wife."

"Oh, he didn't do anything of that sort. He got hold of a gas mask somewhere and when Mrs. Gabson started one of her monologues he puts it on."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FISH WEAR OUT BRIDGE PILES

John Shafer, Jr., deputy in the office of County Surveyor Frank Haycock of Hennepin county, New York, says that fish have butted and rubbed up against the piles of the bridge at Orono, Lake Minnetonka, until that aged edifice has become weakened, necessitating its closing.

Shafer and Edward Terrell, another deputy, were sent out to inspect the span.

"Yes, sir," said Shafer, "those fish kept on butting up against that pier until the wood was almost worn away. In order to get there we had to pound the water around the place to keep the finny things away until we could finish our inspection.

"Why, those fish are so numerous at Minnetonka this year that they get pushed through the narrow passage so swift that they simply wear out the wood."

"What you looking so gay about, Patsy? Ye'll get a licking when yer get home for going in swimming."

"Oh, no! I told dad I had been in swimming and got the licking before I left home. Now I can swim without anything on my mind."

Let us never forget that an act of goodness is in itself an act of happiness. It is the flower of a loving inner life of joy and contentment; it tells of peaceful hours, and days on the summit heights of the soul.—Maeterlinck.
